BIO

"Daring, edgy, fresh, dope with the swagger - breaking boundaries each day, this go-getter is set to be a household name."

In 2006, after briefly working on the movie, 'Take the lead', Choreographer, Singer, Actor and Stage Director, Jennifer Abbey, got her big break beating out the odds landing a feature dance roll in the hit movie 'Hairspray' starring Zac Efron. As an established dancer who had traveled the world with Recording artist Massari and Keshia Chante, performing in front of crowds by the thousands and opening up for big acts such as Ludacris and Destiny's Child, performing is in her blood. Being no stranger to the stage and screen, Jennifer Abbey's good standing in the biz lead her to work with international artists Rihanna, Flo Rida, Black Eyed Peas, Seal, and the list continues to grow. As a young choreographer, she entered the business as a ripe 16 year old choreographing her first music video, "I still believe in Love" by Recording artist Jack Soul, Sony BMG. Between then and now, she's worked on shows, won competitions, Modeled in advertisements for Extreme Fitness, been a judge for dance events and has appeared on networks such as MTV, MTVCanada, MUCHMUSIC, MuchMoreMusic, CTV, CityTV, BPM dance channel, featured in music videos and teaches at workshops all across Canada. Her last appearance was on National Television for the Number one hit show, So You Think You Can Dance Canada, where she assisted Mr. Luther Brown in his hip hop piece with the runner up of season one. Allie in episode 12.

"You dance with such drive and passion, you see the love for what you do in every move..." Lil C, King of Krump.

"J's got Swagga"- Luther Brown,
"Your a true performer"- Blake McGrath

Desperate for growth and eager for perfection, she continued to perfect her craft. Consistently teaching and training at a well established dance studio, she took time and honed in on her tone...for now she was ready to show the world alter ego- Introducing, Jay Beautiful .

Once part of the first all girl Canadian pop group, Cookie Couture, Jay was able to display her dance, vocals, writing, MC, and choreography all in one shot. Featured on the hit Much Music show " Disband" Jay Beautiful and her fellow band members were proclaimed successful which opened the door for her band to open up for acts such as Danny Fernandez, July Black, and Kardinal official.... Humble as she may be, she' s continuing to take the industry by storm. Her talents, beauty, and class surpass the rest. Jay Beautiful is determined to lye amongst the elite.
